Given For Rev. Joel B. Slocum at Central Baptist Church-With Reception Following-Enthusiasm and Loyalty the Keynote in Words of Greeting.

Mrs. Frank Smith has returned to her home in Stony Creek, after a visit pastorate of the Central Baptist church to bring the message of Jesus Christ on the first Sunday of this month, was in his ministry in this church and city, conducted at the church on Tuesday with devotion in his heart to help evening followed by a reception for some nearer to Christ. There was a a have returned to Mystic from a visit Rev. and Mrs. Slocum. A good pro-to relatives in Norwich. Rev. Mrs. Slocum said he gregation were in attendance as well had discovered and into this spirit of as the pastors of a number of the other churches of the city. The service, at which Deacon C. Ed-ward Smith, chairman of the supply committee, presided, was opened at 8 o'clock with the invocation given by Rev. G. C. Pollock in place of Rev. George H. Strouse of the First Baptist church, who was unexpectedly detained from attending in the early part of the evening. The hymn, Coronation, was followed by the scrip-ture lesson by Rev. C. H. Ricketts of Freeneville Congregational church and the anthem, Praise The Lord, well rendered by the quartet.

After prayer by Rev. E. S. Worcester of Broadway Congregational church, the congregation united in the hymn, In the Cross of Christ is Glory, and the address of welcome was given by Rev. Dr. S. H. Howe of Park Con-gregational church. Rev. Dr. Howe, it was remarked by Deacon Smith, had performed a similar service when Rev. P. C. Wright, the former pastor, came to the church,

In an impressive way Rev. Dr. Howe spoke of some of his impressions of Rev. Mr. Slocum, saying that he was a man of positiveness, bearing, as the speaker believed, a message for this people and this city. It is a voice which seems to strike a note of a genius Christianity. There is but one thing that lasts in the world and that is the cross of Jesus Christ. It is needed in this age of surgical opera-tions in our beliefs, brilliant it is true, but often very destructive to the patients. There is a need in New Engand for Jesus Christ and the want of our age is great preachers, not men to serve on forty committees and go outside to do multitudinous social service. Rev. Dr. Howe left the final word given by Professor Bruce to his students: "It's a great privilege to preach Christ." It pays in reward, in ruit, in the consciousness of a faithully fulfilled stewardship.

In responding, briefly, Rev. Mr. Siocum expressed great appreciation of the words of Dr. Howe, and of the privilege that he felt in coming to the church and the city, and remarked that his presence in Norwich seemed to be fulfilling a prediction made years ago that he would some day be coming back to New England. He referred pleasantly to a former recognition ser- | resses.

our Lord he desired to enter. Rev. Frederick Lent, Ph. D., of New Haven, who was the first one to suggest to the church committee the name of Rev. Mr. Slocum, was the concluding speaker of the evening. He spoke of the peculiar bonds of sympathy which he felt for the church, through his acquaintance with Rev. C. M. Gallup, one of his classmates at Brown, with Rev. P. C. Wright, former paster of the church, who was a member of his college fraternity, and now with

Rev. Mr. Slocum, who was his seminary classmate. For words of counsel to church and people, the speaker said that moral earnestness and enthusiasm argued a close acquaintance with Jesus Christ and in this age of so-called diffused intelligence, it is only the concentrated and consecrated that will accomplish things for God. For an example for us to follow our Master devoted his life to the task of winning the world Christ, and it is the business of the church to bring Christ to the hearts of men as a Savior,

The hymn Forward Be Our Watchword by the congregation and the benediction by Rev. J. F. Cobb of the Church of the Good Shepherd con-cluded the service. Other pastors present besides those participating in the service were Rev. R. R. Graham of Christ Episcopal church, Rev. H. J. Wyckoff of the Second Congregational church, and Rev. G. H. ICE ON COUPONS.

Plan Now Used by Norwich Dealers-

No Change in Price on June 1. Coupon books for the ice trade have been put into effect for this season for departure from former methods which the dealers say requires considerable explaining, since it is new in this part of the country, but which is being received with considerable satwest the coupon plan is largely followed. Instead of the old method by which the drivers collected cash each day sold a book of coupons which is good for a total of 250, 500 or 1,000 pounds of ice, as the size may be, containing an assortment of coupons for 5, 10 and 20 pound pieces of ice. To the retail cents per hundred, the 250 pound coupon book costs $1.50. Coupons for the right weight are taken out and put in a tin box on the wagon each time ice is delivered. There is a receipt in the book which the customer signs when he receives It and another receipt which the driver signs when the book is paid for. That no hardship is intended towards cash customers of small means by making them pay for a wholesbook in advance is shown by the fact that full payment is not required in such cases. for the dealers will issue the books on partial payments. The occasional buyer of ice can also buy it for cash without having to take a whole book, and those who pay monthly have the books charged to them only as fast as they are issued.

The dealers will not make any change in the price of ice on the first of June, but it will remain at the present rates of 30, 40 and 60 cents per The retail rate of 60 cents per hundred is not expected to be changed this season. The dealers explain that the primary reason for their adopting the coupon book plan is to get paid for the ice which they put out, which was never so under the old system. This was because it has always been their cusof ice came to 40 pounds, or 24 cents' worth, under the old cash system of not splitting the nickel, the iceman took twenty cents for it. This throwing off of 3 or 4 cents on a large number of sales every day amounted to a big loss to the iceman on the ice that he was accually putting out, and in the present condition of business they say they need to get all that ought to come to them. No distrust of the drivers is indicated by the coupon book plan for they still handle the money, but the coupon system saves them much trouble in making change. in the coupon system is that one deal er will accept the coupons of another Gress Sunday bill, which allows the so that in cases of emergency the park commissioners of cities and bor- householder can get ice from the wagoughs to hold concerts and amateur on of another dealer than the one he regularly trades with.

The Church Improvement society of the Second Congregational church ob-served the twentieth anniversary of its organization with a supper and short programme in the parlors of the church Tuesday evening.
